Tower of Fortunes 4

Artifact

8, {T}: Draw four cards.

The ur-golem etchings begin by celebrating Mirrodin's creator, a golem of almost limitless power. They end by cursing its protector, a being called Memnarch.

Matt Cavotta

™ & © 1993–2003 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 267/306

Tower of Fortunes 4

Artifact

8, {T}: Draw four cards.

The ur-golem etchings begin by celebrating Mirrodin's creator, a golem of almost limitless power. They end by cursing its protector, a being called Memnarch.

Matt Cavotta

™ & © 1993–2003 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 267/306

Tower of Fortunes 4

Artifact

8, {T}: Draw four cards.

The ur-golem etchings begin by celebrating Mirrodin's creator, a golem of almost limitless power. They end by cursing its protector, a being called Memnarch.

Matt Cavotta

™ & © 1993–2003 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 267/306

Tower of Fortunes 4

Artifact

8, {T}: Draw four cards.

The ur-golem etchings begin by celebrating Mirrodin's creator, a golem of almost limitless power. They end by cursing its protector, a being called Memnarch.

Matt Cavotta

™ & © 1993–2003 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 267/306

Tower of Fortunes 4

Artifact

8, {T}: Draw four cards.

The ur-golem etchings begin by celebrating Mirrodin's creator, a golem of almost limitless power. They end by cursing its protector, a being called Memnarch.

Matt Cavotta

™ & © 1993–2003 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 267/306

Tower of Fortunes 4

Artifact

8, {T}: Draw four cards.

The ur-golem etchings begin by celebrating Mirrodin's creator, a golem of almost limitless power. They end by cursing its protector, a being called Memnarch.

Matt Cavotta

™ & © 1993–2003 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 267/306

Tower of Fortunes 4

Artifact

8, {T}: Draw four cards.

The ur-golem etchings begin by celebrating Mirrodin's creator, a golem of almost limitless power. They end by cursing its protector, a being called Memnarch.

Matt Cavotta

™ & © 1993–2003 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 267/306

Tower of Fortunes 4

Artifact

8, {T}: Draw four cards.

The ur-golem etchings begin by celebrating Mirrodin's creator, a golem of almost limitless power. They end by cursing its protector, a being called Memnarch.

Matt Cavotta

™ & © 1993–2003 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 267/306

Tower of Fortunes 4

Artifact

8, {T}: Draw four cards.

The ur-golem etchings begin by celebrating Mirrodin's creator, a golem of almost limitless power. They end by cursing its protector, a being called Memnarch.

Matt Cavotta

™ & © 1993–2003 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 267/306

Tower of Fortunes 4

Artifact

8, {T}: Draw four cards.

The ur-golem etchings begin by celebrating Mirrodin's creator, a golem of almost limitless power. They end by cursing its protector, a being called Memnarch.

Matt Cavotta

™ & © 1993–2003 Wizards of the Coast, Inc. 267/306