Tower of Fortunes 4

Artifact

8, : Draw four cards.

The ur-golem etchings begin by celebrating Mirrodin's creator, a golem of almost limitless power. They end by cursing its protector, a being called Memnarch.

Matt Cavotta

™ & © 2013 Wizards of the Coast 268/356

Tower of Fortunes 4

Artifact

8, : Draw four cards.

The ur-golem etchings begin by celebrating Mirrodin's creator, a golem of almost limitless power. They end by cursing its protector, a being called Memnarch.

Matt Cavotta

™ & © 2013 Wizards of the Coast 268/356

Tower of Fortunes 4

Artifact

8, : Draw four cards.

The ur-golem etchings begin by celebrating Mirrodin's creator, a golem of almost limitless power. They end by cursing its protector, a being called Memnarch.

Matt Cavotta

™ & © 2013 Wizards of the Coast 268/356

Tower of Fortunes 4

Artifact

8, : Draw four cards.

The ur-golem etchings begin by celebrating Mirrodin's creator, a golem of almost limitless power. They end by cursing its protector, a being called Memnarch.

Matt Cavotta

™ & © 2013 Wizards of the Coast 268/356

Tower of Fortunes 4

Artifact

8, : Draw four cards.

The ur-golem etchings begin by celebrating Mirrodin's creator, a golem of almost limitless power. They end by cursing its protector, a being called Memnarch.

Matt Cavotta

™ & © 2013 Wizards of the Coast 268/356

Tower of Fortunes 4

Artifact

8, : Draw four cards.

The ur-golem etchings begin by celebrating Mirrodin's creator, a golem of almost limitless power. They end by cursing its protector, a being called Memnarch.

Matt Cavotta

™ & © 2013 Wizards of the Coast 268/356

Tower of Fortunes 4

Artifact

8, : Draw four cards.

The ur-golem etchings begin by celebrating Mirrodin's creator, a golem of almost limitless power. They end by cursing its protector, a being called Memnarch.

Matt Cavotta

™ & © 2013 Wizards of the Coast 268/356

Tower of Fortunes 4

Artifact

8, : Draw four cards.

The ur-golem etchings begin by celebrating Mirrodin's creator, a golem of almost limitless power. They end by cursing its protector, a being called Memnarch.

Matt Cavotta

™ & © 2013 Wizards of the Coast 268/356